STAY TUNED!

The first Intellectual Output of the Hatebuters Project is a digital guide that addresses young activists, youth workers and members of organizations, associations, or grassroots movements with the aim to:

- offer them theoretical and practical knowledge for the proper recognition, identification and classification of different forms of hate speech and its impact on young people
- introduce the self-regulation theory and mindfulness as well as individual and social responsibility of young people and human rights education as central elements of a democratic and pluralistic digital and offline society against hate
- equip them with the know-how, tools and methods for building a bottom-up campaign against the perceiving and rising problem as hate speech.

Partners Virtual Meetings

Obviously, due to the current Covid19 restrictions and regulations, the partners were not able to meet face to face. Thus, the meetings are taking place online, in a smooth, friendly, and collaborative environment in an effective way!

Current state

The partners are about to release the sub-output of IO2: The “Lazy” Person’s guide to becoming a HateBuster which aims to mobilize young people against hate speech and cyberbullying phenomena. They are also finalizing the Educational and Awareness Building Videos which are also part of the IO2: HateBusters Campaign and finally, they are working on the development and amelioration of the IO3: HateBusters App.
